

The Study of Vibration

Session 192

by
Da Pah Ekara San

Recorded November 25, 2007

ONLINE TRANSCRIPT FOR IMZAIA.WORLD

Da Jeshua San: Hi, I hope everyone who went through the afternoon of the seminar had a good day. That the exercises that we did, that you did together were deep and that you had a chance to integrate a lot of the information that has come in in the last several days. Also I want to say hi to everybody who is here for this free Trinity Night. It is going to be a special one, because in the last few weeks, actually especially in the last few days, we have been getting a lot of what seems to be very complex information. Complex because it has been dealing with inter dimensional DNA, it has been dealing with science on a level that science actually hasn't looked into themselves. But, you know, we have to bring this in and I guess I can already tell you that tonight is going to be a continuation of that very same information.

So, I prepare you to get ready and we are going to have a wonderful night.

We are going to start with the Ekaraia straight away, accompanied by Da Pahdasan'ka Barak Solarys San and his live music. And after that we are going to go immediately into a Q&A session. That means that we are going to have about an hour or so for questions and answers. Now those questions could be about anything that you have gone through in the last several days with regards to the process of mastering the illusions. It can also be about your personal life or it can be about any type of question, any type of topic that you would like to ask. So right after the Ekaraia we are going to go straight into that.

As we will go into the Q&A, we will make that seat available over there so that you can just come up and ask your questions straight away, okay? Good, then we are going to get started. Okay.

Is there anybody here who has never been to a channeling? You? You? Okay. Well, do you know the concept of channeling? Do you know what it is about?

Akeyasan 1: Hmhm.

Okay, well if you have any questions during the channel, you can always come up, or after the channel, during the Q&A. Just feel free to come up. It is just about bringing in information from the center of all our hearts, basically. Okay. Let's get going.

Da Ambika San: I invite you to go to your inner heart space. In there, find the love for yourself and let it fill yourself. Let it shine from within and let it fill every cell. Let it go beyond your body, let it fill your energy field. Be aware of that love because that is you, that is the God in you. And let all this love connect between all of us. Let it fill this room, let it fill this building, and let it fill this world. And know that in this connection all the words are coming towards you from your own heart to your heart, enjoy.

Da Pah Ekara San

And so it is.

Greetings, beloved Imzaia, I am that I am Da Pah Ekara San, and I am accompanied here tonight by the lovely presence of that being that you know as 'Da Ojadasan'ka Adamus Valen San'. We will blend tonight to bring you this information, the one that we need to get across. Why the blending of a Cosmic Being and that which you would call an 'Ascended Master'? Very simple. Because this time around, as we bring you the information, we want to get both points of view across, you see? Both the cosmic one and the human one.

So, this is a continuation of that information that you would call 'Mastering the Grand Illusions'. And Masters you all are. You are here on this planet Earth for a very simple reason: to raise the energy, to become more aware of who you are and of why you exist in the first place, what your potentials are all about, and to see if you can bring this field of space and time that you are in right there into that which you are calling 'divinity'.

I will speak for now, the one that you call 'Da Pah Ekara San', and Da Ojadasan'ka Adamus Valen San will be present in the background as he will prepare himself to answer your questions later on.

As you know, all of you sitting here, all of you on this planet Earth right now, are sovereign servants of free energy. Kings and Queens that have embodied themselves in a flesh husk, so that they could bring this divine energy into a space that before you came in to it only knew a type of duality. A type of right and wrong, of black and white, up and down that held no merit for any aspect of creation. It was just an empty pocket of space basically, a lull in that which you would call 'divinity'. And you wanted to find out if it would be possible to come in to that empty pocket of space and fill it up. And when I say 'empty', I don't mean empty the way you would mean it. I mean 'empty' because the whole wasn't present within that pocket of time and space. You are making sure - not just the people that are sitting here obviously, but everybody on this Earth is making sure - that that pocket gets filled, so that once again it belongs to the whole. When you want to fill up such a thing as time and space, all you can do is reincarnate within it and bring with you those aspects of you that will graft themselves onto that which you call 'reality.'

So, don't be mistaken. Where you walk, light walks. Where you walk, beauty walks, even though you don't see it yourselves, even though you think of yourselves as little, even though you think of yourselves as small, as not good enough. You think of yourselves as having to go through a struggle and you call the struggle 'life', 'daily life'. It isn't a struggle. It is only a struggle as long as you believe in that which you call 'definition', when you define boundaries for yourself, when you set yourselves up basically for a life which has a beginning, a middle, and an end.

Now, last incarnation I had on this Earth as the being Ekara, there was no duality in the sense that you see it. There was no beginning, a middle or an end, not until you wanted that for yourselves. The space you know as 'Lemuria', the continent you know as 'Lemuria', is one where there is so much openness. It is still going on today, you know, only not in your timeline. It is still going on today. What is happening right now on this planet Earth is another remerging of timelines, you see? That is why it was necessary for this Earth, this timeline that you are sitting in now, to take away all the... all things that didn't belong anymore, all those things. And as you take these things away, obviously, you take them away from yourself because you are time and space. You are that field that you see all around you, that is projected all around you. Nothing more and nothing less than that.

The Human Brain Rewiring Process

If only... If only you would completely and utterly understand that you are All Things, that you are the Heart of All Things, the Expression of All Things and the Experience of All Things! If only you would understand that you are beating within every molecule of everything that is around you! Your heart is in there. And you will understand these things as these things that you call 'neurons' are changing within the human brain. So many messengers on this planet Earth have been speaking about the changes that are occurring within the human brain. Mere months ago, you were told about the human brain rewiring process. That the left side and the right side of the brain were becoming one again.

And that process had indeed begun. It is a very important process. But there is nothing to it, if you don't take the next steps that are required to activate this new way of thinking because that is what it is all about, isn't it? It is about a new way of thinking because thinking creates your reality. When you think, when you manifest thoughts, when you break potentials down into their very elements and you create matter with it, you create time and space with it, you are creating your reality. You are the ones bringing in this new type of consciousness, changing all that is around you.

So, it is really about changing your thoughts, isn't it? The beings that you have met in the last years, beings like the energy you know as 'Da Hana Satya San', and long before that the being known as 'Da Michael San', and so many, so many others, all carried the same message: Change your heart, change your thoughts, change your very existence by doing that. It came back time and time and time again. Now look at your thoughts! Examine your thoughts pretty closely. Are they changed or are you still creating the same patterning that you beam out of yourself, out of your essence? And in doing that, you create the very same reality over and over again.

Now, that had been possible up until a little while ago, and then you started noticing something was different. Something had changed. You started noticing that even the negative thoughts that you emitted started manifesting pretty quickly. They came into your reality pretty quickly. A fear that you would speak about to some person at your work space or in your family. And all of a sudden, there you would have it, the manifestation of that fear. And so many of you that call yourselves 'Lightworkers', that call yourselves 'Imzaia' and 'Shaumbra' and what other names have you not, you all have these names that you give yourselves, all of you have been working with this information for so many years most of the time, and at the same time, you saw there was something missing. You saw that there was an energy that was missing from within that would bring you the missing piece of the puzzle, so to speak.

Well, the missing piece of that puzzle began coming into this Earth at the end of September of this year. It is that point in your lives when most people will say, when they look back in a few years, that their lives started changing. That the things around them started to change, but not necessarily for the better. All through 2007, as so many have been on their way to Cosmic Mastery, you saw so many things in your lives take place, things that seemed not to be as good as you had hoped they would be. That is because a section of let's call it 'the steering wheel of reality' had been handed to you now. It means that there was not as big a filter between yourselves and your reality than you used to have in the past. In the past, there used to be a great buffer, a great buffer so that the fear and so that so many different things, fear or pain that you were thinking about or death that you were thinking about or disease that you were thinking about could not manifest as quickly. Call it a 'failsafe device', but humans are very persistent in their thinking patterns, so in the end, most of you did end up creating pain or fear or disease.

Now, that process has only intensified. It means that you just have to have a thought, and mere minutes later already it might become manifest in your lives. You don't see it straight away, but usually the day afterwards, you see that you were thinking about something and it happened. It is also happening with the good thoughts, and this has to do with the neuron system of your brain.

As we have explained before in this very series, there is an extra part coming to your neuron pathway connections, the way in which the physical brain allows you to think. And it has to do with the rewiring process. It has to do with rewiring the brain. We have called this part 'divinity,' haven't we? We have said that, instead of a neuron and a neuron hanging here and sending their electrical impulses to each other so that thoughts can be created that there is an overlay now. And it is filtered through a process of divinity.

Now tonight, as we give you this message, I would like to deepen your understanding of that process. I would also like to deepen your understanding of that which you have called 'the Akene' in earlier times on this planet Earth. It is very important, that you know how these things operate, even though you don't fully understand them yet. It is interesting to hear because it will activate certain aspects of your DNA. And all of these things are connected, you know? The thinking process of the brain, the DNA, the Akene, the five elements, all these things are connected. They are connected to magnetics. They are connected to geometry and they are connected to so many, so many different things. It is all one. It is all the very same basis of information, the very same point of view so to speak, but the coming together of different aspects of all of that.

Humanity, Electro-Magnetics and Divinity

We have always told you that you have a certain key in your hands. Now, what is this key? It is the coming together of humanity and divinity, you see? You could say that all of humanity has an electro-magnetic field around itself, generating life. How does this happen? I will repeat this process because it is a long time ago that we spoke about this. It is very simple really: if you look at one of your organs, for instance, and one of these organs is made up of millions and millions of cells, and if you look at one of these little cells, then you will see that the cell nucleus is allowing the magnetic field to flow in either direction, left or right. That would mean that you have a cell and that the magnetic field of that cell is either going left or right, you see?

Now, if you take an organ and all of its millions and millions of cells and you look at the way all cells are oriented, let's say that you have 52% of your cells of your stomach going to the left and 48% going to the right, and that would mean that the general electro-magnetic field of your stomach would be going to the left. It is just a simple equation, an add-on exercise. Now, if you look at all your organs combined and you look at the way the electro-magnetic field of each organ is oriented, then you can see the orientation of the electro-magnetic field of your brain and eventually of your entire body because all of these organs, you see, they add up to the electro-magnetic pole that the brain has. And from thereon it gives you the electron-magnetic pole of your body turning left or turning right.

This used to interact with the electro-magnetic field of Earth, and from there on with the electro-magnetic field of the Sun, etc., etc., etc. And this is what you would have called the 'life elixir'. It was the spark of life as you were interacting with or against the movement of the electromagnetic field of Earth. It would be very, very important to the way you were experiencing your reality because if you were going with the movement of the magnetic field of planet Earth, often times you would feel that you were having a streak of good luck. You would then say, "Things are going my way." "Things are going in the right direction," humans would say. It is just because you had a movement of your electro-magnetic field in harmony with that of the Earth.

And sometimes, if things were going a different way, literally, things wouldn't be going your way. You would feel all this friction, all this tension with whatever project you would want to undertake. And obviously, all of these things were connected to that which you would call 'astronomy' and 'astrology' and all of those things. All connections.

Now, what happens if a planet is undergoing an ascension process? It leaves its duality behind, so there is no more turning of the electro-magnetic field of Earth. This is one of the things that we been wanting to tell you for a very long time, but we couldn't yet.

At this time that we are telling you this, there is a scientist in Russia who is about to discover this very fact. And I am going to ask you, if you hadn't stopped doing so, to start watching your news because very, very shortly (probably in a couple of weeks, if governments decide to bring the information out) there is going to be quite a little shock on planet Earth, as scientists are going to discover the slowing down of the electro-magnetic field. And they are going to think that it is because of the increased solar streak activity of the Sun and they are going to think, that the Jupiter field and the Saturn field of magnetics is increasing, that it is going to be covering the Earth entirely.

And they are going to think so many different things. They are going to be exploring this. They are going to be researching this. They are going to be saying, that the end of times might be at hand yet again because what good is life on the planet without an electro-magnetic field? It is the electro-magnetic field that is keeping you as a race on this planet Earth alive basically. It is one of the problems that you have as astronauts go into space, bone marrow stops being produced in the body and other systems start to fail slowly within the body because of the moving away from the electro-magnetic field of Earth, you see? So, people will think that the Earth and its humanity is doomed. It isn't. It isn't. There is a new way that is coming out and it is coming out sooner than you think, actually.

A New Energy System on Planet Earth

We are going to be calling this Ekaraiia 'Akeneic Energy,' and why? Because this is basically the energy system that is coming onto planet Earth, and again it is not coming from the cosmos, especially not the external cosmos. It is coming from the inner cosmos. The entire energy system of planet Earth is undergoing a tremendous, tremendous change.

Now what is that change? Let me show you. If you look at energy, energy that is the way it has always been, then you would see energy like this, having a direction. Energy used to move in a specific direction. And obviously, you would have harmonics and frequencies. I am not going to give you the technical explanation as the scientist would give you because the technical information that the scientist would give you is oftentimes limited to what they know at that point. But energy in an old energy paradigm used to move within one direction.

Now, as that was so that would mean that your reality would also be defined by one direction: an arrow going towards the future. And as you know, we are going to draw it once again, the frequencies and the harmonics of that energy is what would be your DNA. This is new information, so I am going to repeat it once again. Energy shifting in one direction and the harmonics and the frequencies of the energy itself is your DNA. You are the frequency of energy, do you see? And that is what is manifesting your bodies.

But what is akeneic energy now? This, energy not just moving in one direction but also moving in the other direction. This is a change that is happening to the entire universe, that which you were calling 'universal energy' that was moving in one direction, and you having to put your nose in the direction of universal energy or you couldn't do a thing basically. All of that is changing. Akeneic energy is bringing energy in right from the very first moment of Big Bang to the supposed very end of time and straight back. This means that you are getting a more fulfilled, more complete paradigm of existence than ever before. It is also making it impossible for you to remain in the field of duality because what you are getting now is the same old frequency that you have always known, that you have called your 'DNA', and then at the same time, a similar frequency, but moving in the exact opposite direction. This means that you will no longer have the ability to only recollect the past, but also to recollect future potentials.

And this will teach you that the past is nothing more than a potential as well. Because as you will begin to learn to work with this, as the neural neuron system of the brain is going to be changed, as we have explained in previous messages, you are going to be very surprised with yourselves because all of a sudden, you are going to have a lot of déjà-vus happening to you. You are going to have an increase of that. You are going to witness that you are going to be remembering the past and the future all at once.

And at first, because you are still thinking within a duality based system, you are going to think that you are going to see an event in the future and you are going to lock onto that event, you see, but that is just because you still are in a state of duality. So, you will see a future moment, say your own death, and you might think, "Oh God, this is it. I am going to be dead soon because I have seen it in my future. I have got a premonition." No, you haven't. You just have seen one potential on the akeneic energy scale. And you are going to learn then that if you can remember an aspect of your own future and you are going to have the ability to use potentiation to change that potential that you are going to be doing the same thing for your past memories because as a past memory comes up, you are going to have the ability to do the very same thing.

Now, before we go deeper into this, I want to explain to you why this is becoming a possibility. And it is very simple. More simple than you might think, obviously. [Da Pah Ekara San draws a torso] An artist's sketch of the human body.

We have been telling you about the Akene. You know that thing that you have in there. Oh, come on, Imzaia, laugh a little! You are all acting so very heavy! This information isn't heavy. This information is life-changing. This information is meant to lift you up so you can fly!

Anyway, the Akene, right here in the middle of your body. I am going to draw it as a simple dot because in the end, that is all it is. When you activate the complete Akene, going to the triangle system and then turning those triangles into pyramids and then imploding those pyramids into the thymus, as you have been learning, all that you are left with is a tiny dot. Now that tiny dot is All That Is. We have explained this to you. If you have All That Is and within All That Is you have the field of space/time with all its universes then all of this, not just this [small circle] but all of this as well [big circle] is basically right here in that little dot.

That is why so many people have been telling you that you are God. It is the reason why they have told you that you carry the universe within. It is why they have told you all of these things. You are literally doing that, literally. I know this is very hard to understand from a human point of view, especially when the human is mind based still. But you are literally carrying that entire universe right there, and not just the universe, but everything, everything!

144 Akeneic Cells

Now, we have also told you about the 144 akeneic cells. What is this? It are cells that are immediately behind the space of the thymus in the body, yes? Why are they akeneic? I have told you before. If you have the atom core and you have electrons going around normally the atom core, in the case of an akeneic cell, it isn't going around the atom core, it is making a field right through the atom core. A movement right through it, so that it is not losing the energy of the electrons. It is just adding to itself.

Why would you have 144 of those infinite cells, basically? Well, because they are right here. I am just going to draw just a few. They are the cells that are basically the bridge between your infinite inner self and the finite outside hull that is your body. Cells that come that close to that which you would call 'totality' or that which you would call 'divinity', have no other way than becoming divine themselves. As the human expression goes 'Touching the face of God is being God'. So, that is what these cells are doing as well.

You could say, that akeneic cells are photonic/tachyonic in nature because they allow for the bridging of a gap, you see? The bridging of a gap between something that is infinite and something that is finite. And it is all going on right here behind your thymus. 144 of these cells are making up the breach between the reality that you see around you and the divinity that you can find within. There is no divinity up there. There is no divinity below here. There is no divinity to left or to the right. All divinity that you will ever find is right here [in the Akene]. There is only one Akene because there is only one All That Is. There is only one totality, obviously. So, using the Akene with the surrounding akeneic cells is making use of your own divinity.

However, 144 cells out of trillions and trillions of cells in the body that remain dualistic do not a divine human make, right? That is why, although this part, this little part of your body right here, has always been working with akeneic energy, the rest of your body was unable to work with akeneic energy and they just worked with one layer of the energy, just going in one direction of time and space, which is what was creating your linearity in the first place.

Why now are these neurons, these neutral neurons starting to show up in the brain? It is very simple. Yes, it is the brain that is guiding the rest of the body process. It is the brain that is telling your cells, that is telling every aspect of you to start regenerating or to fail, right? Now, as the neutral neurons are entering into the brain, the brain is starting to give different commands to the body. And the most important command that the neutral neurons are making, my beloved Imzaia, is the command to make every cell of your body akeneic. And this is the grand shift that is taking place then. This means that all of your cells, to say it in a more poetic way, are becoming divine, are becoming infinite. The difference between a low vibrating cell and a high vibrating cell is that the low vibrating cell just has the atoms going around it, and this one has the atoms going right through it. Why is it vibrating high? Because electrons that go right through the atomic core are generating that which you are calling 'geometric light.' Geometric light is that which fires up your Merkabah body.

Do you see what is happening here? The body is becoming infinite. All that was once in there, just in there, is now going to be all over the body. All over the body. That means that we can now bring together the information that we have presented you with a while ago. Why do you think that we are training you to think of everything that is around you as 'your body'? Because this is literally what is going to happen, you see? For, my dear humanity, as the neutral neurons are going to be activating the akeneic cells of the entire body, as the bodily cells will start regenerating and becoming akeneic in that way, it will not stop there.

The reason why we have taught you the 'I Am Breath' is because these cells and the energy behind it is not just limited to your own body. Everything in all creation carries within the heart of all cells the akeneic signature. So, your presence, and this is what great Masters have always been telling you about, your presence is going to change the face of the Earth as you walk with a completely Akene activated body. So, you will bring everything that you see around you in a new state of balance and harmony. You know that Da Jeshua San used to walk places and that the grass responded to his feet. Now you know, why that is. It's because there was a completely activated Akeneic body. And this is what is going to happen. It is what is already happening. It is the coming of the Christ Consciousness to planet Earth. Do you see? Do you see why? Do you see why this would have such a great effect on your very DNA?

And do you also see why we have been teaching you about all of those things: mastering your illusions, for instance. Why? Not because it is fun to master your illusions, obviously not. It is not fun to do that. It is not fun to be confronted, at least that is what you think, it is not fun to be confronted with all of these things and then find out that they are not real. That everything around you has always been about conditional signatures, has always been about conditional ways of living. And now to find out that all that is going to change, that it is already changing, and that some of you are already seeing those results, that is very interesting.

The Next Step of the Cosmos' Evolution

Do you know how long so many of us have been waiting for this to happen? We have always told you, I and all the others, that 'the things that you could do are as great and even greater than the things that we have always done'. All you needed to do was to have that moment of inspiration, that spark of divinity, to find that within yourself. As you do that you open yourselves up for a greater truth.

So, mastering your illusions is not just about something that you choose to do. It is about facilitating you to have a more easy ride, you see? Because if you don't, this system is going to come into being anyway. It is just the next step of the cosmos' evolution. And learning how to let go of those things that you would hold sacred in the past is the only way to make this process more easy because the connections are going to change on so many different levels, so many different levels.

Just think about a world where going to your workplace every day seems like one big joke because what is 'a day'? What is defining a day, if you are in a constant state of non-definition? What is that? It is nothing! Why do you need money, if you are in a constant state of creation? And do you know how many of your human inter-relationships are based on the way you are living your lives?

Let's look at families. Let's look at love relationships. If you really dig deep with many people and you ask, "Why are you still together after all this time?" An answer that you will get after, "Because I still love him or her and because we have shared so many things together etc., etc., etc... Because we have children together." The answer that you will find is 'because you are afraid to stand in this world alone'. You feel safe, you feel protected when you are within a family clan or within a relationship setup. Because that is what it is. It is a setup. You feel safe because you have to fight against a bad, bad world. A big bad wolf that is going to get you. And all you want to do basically is trot around in the forest and have fun.

Well, that type of fun is coming back to planet Earth. And I am not saying that everybody is going to be lazy. I am not saying that you just going to have to open your mouth to feel the fruit fall in your mouth. I am not saying that. You could create that, but I am not saying that. I am saying that everybody is going to work from their highest passion because that is all that you are going to be able to do because your life's work will all be about constant states of creation, you see?

Now, all of this fascinating material, I guess you must think it is... [laughs] Sorry, that was Da Ojadasan'ka Adamus Valen San). All of that fascinating material is obviously linked to your own DNA. In what way? We have told you about the 144 strands of DNA, to be dissected in 2 biological strands, right? 71 and 71. 71 energy based strands and this [71] is what we have defined as infinite strands. Now these two, as you know, is what scientists were calling 'junk' because they didn't know what to do with it basically. They didn't know what their function was. These are inter-dimensional layers. This old energy paradigm, as I have told you now, will always continue to be present as your DNA activates more and more, and you will need these 71 [energy] strands to activate and work with the time/space field of experience.

So, the field of experience isn't totally going to go away. It will be right there in your DNA, and you can recreate it whenever you want, but it is these infinite strands that we also defined as 'blank,' that we are now going to define as 'akeneic energy.' And why? Because the akeneic energy is going to flow in two directions. I am just going to draw it like this.

The Creational Power of Akeneic Energy

Why is this a blank slate of creational power that is showing up right there in your DNA? Because akeneic energy holds all information, all information! It holds the information since the dawn of time right up till the ending and it is continuously sending that information through the time/space line back and forth and forth and back, or whatever you want to call it, continuously. There is a continuous flow going on with all knowledge of the universe, and right up til now, only a few people on planet Earth can tap into that knowledge, and you called them 'psychics' and 'mediums' and that sort of people. And later on they would be called 'healers' and so many, so many different names that you gave to those people.

Now, all of those people on planet Earth that have ever tapped into the akeneic field of energy have only been able so far to access not even 2% of the power of that energy. That is how accurate any paragnostical or psychic reading has ever been in your past, about 2% accuracy. That is not a lot of accuracy. Everybody, as the full set of DNA will once again activate, is going to have the full 100% available. It is going to be the natural state of life on planet Earth, and all of this is happening right now.

But as you continue to separate yourself from this change that is going on, you are only going to make it more difficult for yourselves because you are going to feel more and more friction in your lives, you see?

So, a while ago, right during this seminar, the question was asked when the topic of mastering your illusions and breaking through all of your stories, your human stories was at hand, the question was asked, "How can I do this? How can I actually make it happen?"

We are going to answer that question tonight, so open your ears. The answer is: by just doing it! That is the answer to the question: by just doing it. How can we tell you 'how' if this is a natural process that is happening within your body? Can you tell your neighbor how she can make sure her heart stays beating? How she can make sure it does that every couple of minutes or seconds, best case scenario, seconds. Can you tell her? Can you tell her how she is supposed to breathe? Can you tell him how you are blinking your eyes right now? How are you doing that? Yes, you are moving the muscles of your eyelids, but how are you doing that? Can you say to anybody how you are walking around? Yet, to a person who used to be paralyzed, walking around was all that mattered and nobody could tell her how to do it. At a certain point the energy just becomes available to you, and it becomes a natural process.

You Are Becoming Infinite

So, please, I would like all of you just to lighten up a little bit. All of this information is good information. It is about the evolution of you. It is not something that should be hard or that should be difficult or that should be bringing you more frustration. It should bring you a feeling of celebration, even though you may not be fully aware of what is happening as we are explaining this to you. This is just a 'spiritechnical' explanation of the fact that you are becoming divine, and that is what is happening to you, that you are becoming infinite.

You have always known in the spiritual series that you were following all over planet Earth that divinity was going to come in to planet Earth and that it was going to come through all of you. Well, if you now know that you have All That Is right here in the thymus, then it is very literally so that you are going to bring that divinity into planet Earth. It is going to happen with your body. It is happening with people's bodies. I see someone here that it is already happening to. You could talk about your experience later on if you like.

Akeyasan 1: In English?

Da Pah Ekara San: Oh, in Swahili is fine, too, or maybe ancient Egyptian or something, you know, one of those things.

So anyway, Imzaia, this is what effectively is going on. We have now given you the first bit of information. This actually has been - up until now - just the first part, the complete first part of 'Mastering the Grand Illusions' Series. Next time we will begin the second chapter of that series because it has brought you to the point where you are starting to understand the workings of akeneic energy. And from there on things can only get more simple. It is just about the understanding of some new axioms, some new basic concepts, some new basic concepts of thinking. Like teaching a toddler or a small child what is left and what is right. Or to you: what is left and what is right?

But once you start working with and understanding these concepts, there is no more need to start thinking with the brain. You see, the human brain is not going to be able to process akeneic, energetic information for much longer. The way the brain is today will not hold that level and intensity of information. It is not going to be able to do that. Your illusions are keeping your brain in duality. Your illusions are actually hampering the entry of the neutral neuron system into your brain. That is what is happening on a biological, technical, energetic level.

What is happening on an emotional and psychological level is that you feel torn, torn between two worlds: an old world and a new world. Again, mastering your illusions can assist you in that process. Like Jeshua was telling you this morning, "Discover the pleasure of peeling away layer after layer after layer of illusion and don't see sadness in letting go of things that you now know are not real." I know this feels like telling you that Santa Claus isn't real. I know it feels like we are telling you that the Easter Bunny isn't humping around anywhere, or should I say 'jumping' around?

And it so, the reality that you have seen around you isn't the reality that you think. It is the reality that you create. Only the difference between the giant lie about Santa Claus that is told to your children is that in the end, they end up feeling very disillusioned because they will never see that Santa Claus again, although they have seen him when they believed him to be real.

The good news for you is that you will still experience this reality. Only you will master it in a way that is not seen before on this planet Earth. So, get ready for that. Get ready to take those steps. They are necessary steps. And the faster you take them, the faster things will start quieting down in your life again, and you will start having fun again, as some here know. You might start to have actual joy in life again, as you feel disease leave your body, disease that seem to be so difficult to get rid of and other problems, just vanishing because they were only based on thoughts, thoughts that were not even your own. Basically what is happening is that the mind is losing the battle. It is losing the battle for the body. It is losing the battle for reality.

A question was asked also somewhere in the course of the day, "Is the body important or isn't the body important?" The body, as you know it today, is not important because it is just a husk that is going to die and that you need to maintain life force in for as long as you can. But the body, as it is originally intended and that you carry within you the seeds of, is a very important body because it is the body of All That Is. But it only becomes important when you see the limits and the boundaries of said body not around you here where the flesh ends, but without any sets of boundaries. It is akeneic energy that will bring you that gift again.

Now, I can only suggest to you that you try to listen to these three parts of the first part of this series that we are presenting to you because all three parts, everything that was said in the last days about DNA and everything that was said now about akeneic energy, holds one section of knowledge.

Focus on Child's Play

We are going to give you something else now before we turn this into a Q&A because the question could be asked, "How are you going to implement this into your lives?" You are all sitting here right now, listening to this information, and some of you might think, "It is pretty dull.” And others of you might think, “It is pretty interesting,” but still both of you are probably thinking what the hell to do with it! How to manifest this in your lives? How to do something with this?

Well, what can we say other than: focus on child’s play? You see, Imzaia, your children are already using this type of akeneic energy. There is a reason why when a child is born into planet Earth, and you are holding it in your hands, in your arms, it almost makes you cry of beauty. Even the ugliest child, so to speak, would make you cry of beauty. God knows, it has nothing to do with the eyes of that child. It has nothing to do with the skin because, as a child is a new-born and just a few minutes out of its mother, it looks pretty fowl indeed, wouldn’t you say? Skin all wrinkled. And still, when you hold that thing in your arms that looks like a bulldog at that point, all you think is, “Ooh!”

But why do you think that? You don’t think that because what you are holding in your arms is Brad Pitt or Pamela Anderson, but what you are holding in your arms is so pure, is so full of authentic life and divinity, is so full of that source energy that you can’t but love it and that you can’t but feel that universal, unconditional joy come up, and all things around you start to disappear. You can have a person that is going through its busy day, going from meeting to meeting to meeting to meeting, and at a certain point you just stop that person and put a baby in his hands. I think that person will be ten minutes late for a meeting, or they will be so alienated from their own sense of self that they would think, “Eww,” and put the baby away again.

But usually that doesn’t happen. It is because the baby is full of divinity. It is because the akeneic field that we were talking about, that little dot in the center of your thymus, is still so big with a baby. Most of that baby’s cells are still akeneic at that point. You know a baby is very good at creating its reality. It is hungry: it gets fed. It wants to sleep: it can sleep. It can do anything it wants and it doesn’t do so because it is forcing you to do it. It is just creating its reality, you see? That is akeneic energy right there.

And then, as the child starts to grow up and they start playing with each other these little games, especially when they are really, really small still, as a parent looking at that, for the love of God, you wouldn’t know what reality they are in because all they are doing is just walking around a little and looking up and seeing things that you are not seeing. That is akeneic energy right there. That is what they are doing all the time.

And then as they grow older, slowly the cells of the body start to lose that akeneic quality and they become dualistic. As new cells get generated within a field of duality, that is this world, the child begins to create cells that are eventually going to kill it. Sorry to say it that way, but that is right. That is the way it is.

Child's play. That is one of the angles that you can look to this big change from. It is just one of the angles. If you find that same purity and that same passion that you find when you see a child play, and not a big one, just a very small one, and if you see that child's joy. I don't know if you can all remember, and probably you can't, but as I can see through the entire time/space field, instead of looking at all of you sitting here now, I am seeing you just two, three years old. And I see you with parents or family or caretakers. And I see one of those caretakers just make a little funny face, and for the love of God, you think you would die of laughter as a two year old. It would just burst you into laughter. Don't you remember how that was? Don't you remember how much fun that was to be that small child? To have that total and utter, unconditional, universal laughter come out of you. It is wonderful. It is wonderful.

All of that in that bundle of joy that you see. That is an akeneic activation. That is an akeneic body, and that is what you can do, if you let go of all that bullshit that you stuff your heads with all day: television and newspapers and problems and jobs and appointments and so many, so many different things. I mean, imagine a baby, a two-year old that you would walk up to and say, "Ok, this is your schedule for today: You got a meeting at 7:30 and then at 9:00 you got a haircut and then by 10:00 you have to be at the gym because you have a blind date tonight, so it is going to be a heavy day." Do you think that child is still going to have all that laughter? That child wants nothing.

And the same thing you see happen with little puppies, little animals. Why was Walt Disney so successful in the creation of an entire empire of animation film? It is because he took from puppies and other animals those qualities that would remind you, as you were seeing the animals, of children and babies: big eyes, big ears, very pure faces. Think of Mickey Mouse. Think of Donald Duck. Think of Bambi, indeed, and don't feel happy. Or think of the first time that you see that puppy or a little kitten that is just trying to make its way towards you and falling down as it does, coming towards you. If you hold that little critter, that is a being of akeneic energy.

'It is the children that shall inherit the Earth'. That has always been said. So, it is the children that are within you that are ready now to take over that Earth, that are to take back that power, and that is so very, very important. It is the most important thing that you can focus on. Child's play.

Another thing that is practical fulfilment of what we have been telling you in this first part of the Mastering your Grand Illusions: it is about what we started out with this time because we haven't linked all that information yet to what we began speaking of when we were speaking of the electro-magnetic field.

The Electro-Magnetic Field

We told you that the electromagnetic field was coming to a standstill, that it would no longer be going round and round and round. It is not exactly right. I needed to give you this bit of information first. What is happening is that your magnetic field, and every magnetic aspect of energy, actually, is doubling itself up, you see? Instead of having one movement of energy, the very same energy is going to double itself and start moving in the opposite direction. Because you have two directions going at once, from the perspective of the human, it would seem as though the field has stopped. But it hasn't stopped. And it isn't causing friction, either.

Actually, you have an extra dimensional layer that is put over your electromagnetic field. And that means that you have a dimension where the energy of the electromagnetic field is going to the right and a duplicate of the very same dimension, an overlay - let's call it an 'overlay' - of the very same dimension where the energy is going in the exact opposite direction, which means that the third overlay would be divinity where all seems to be standing still. That is what we have called the 'neutral neuron system' where you have a synaptic pathway [draws] in the brain, and another - this looks like a sperm cell, but anyway - and another synaptic pathway in the brain and is generating a thought by emitting its electricity towards one another, so that a thought is created. You could compare these dualistic ways of thinking with the movement of your own electromagnetic field.

Now, as these fields are going in both directions now, what is happening is not a type of friction. There is a third overlay coming, which is within and without this field of time and space, a third one. So, instead of going like this, the information is basically going like this and right back again, so creating some sort of infinity symbol, you could say. This links to your electromagnetic field. Why? Because the electromagnetic field, for all purpose and intent in your perception, will come to a complete standstill because it is no longer going to be the electromagnetic field that is going to generate your elixir of life, your spark of life. It is going to be your akeneic energy. It is going to come from within now, the spark. You don't need to look for anything else outside of you ever again because you are going to be the one generating that power.

To make sure that that is happening and to start experiencing the electromagnetic field on a practical level, it would be good to start analyzing, literally, the things that are going on around you. What is making humans dizzy on planet Earth? It is not the spinning of the planet itself. It is the spinning of events around the human. So many things going on. Things coming in from the left and things coming in from the right. Energy is getting hold of you, people catching you, trying to trap you into mind-based thinking. It could be a very good thing for all of humanity, as this electromagnetic shift of neutrality is taking place, to stop the movement around themselves.

Find the Emptiness

At the beginning of the Manifest, the beginning of 2007, the Cosmic Council of Twelve that I am a part of has always said that December would be a good month to take a break. Not the break, however, from all the spiritual information, but a break from life.

Now, I know that as you think about your life and your jobs and your families and everything, you seem to think that that is impossible. I am going to counter that. I am going to ask you, "Isn't it sad, dear human, in a life that you are calling a 'free' life that it is impossible to get away from it all for thirty days?" Five days even is a lot for many people. Just to make your choice to be within your own energy field for thirty days. Huh! Oh my God! The things you would have to do to make that happen! You probably have to fake your own death or something. But it is true.

Try to imagine it just on a reality basis. You are going home later on or in a couple of days, if you are taking part in this event, and you are coming home and you are set to create a space of thirty free days. What is the first phone call you have to make or the first email you have to write? Ah, work. What else? A partner potentially? Family, other agreements with friends. And it is not just going to be that it is going to be difficult for those people to accept that of you, it is also going to be difficult for you. Because if you miss all the events that are going on around you for a month, it is going to be so hard to catch up, isn't it? Oh, my god! 'What about my soap operas, if I can't follow those for a month? How will I ever know if John kissed Jane?' Well just to let you know: Jane didn't actually kiss John. Jane starts a lesbian relationship with Jeanine, and in the end, John is killed by James. Just so you know.

I am just telling you, Imzaia. I am just telling you, it is so very difficult, also for yourself, to want that space. To 'want' it. Because the things that you want most of the time are outside of you and are fed to you by a society that is telling you what you need or what you want. And if you don't do all of those things - have that job, go for a drink with your friends, get laid every two days best case scenario, etc., etc., etc., try the newest restaurant, find the newest dish, follow the latest fashion - if you don't do all of those things, and I know that you are not the typical creature that is doing all of these things, not the spiritual ones, but still. But still, you're doing them as well.

Find that emptiness! Find that stillness! You will need it in the coming month, as this is the last month of the peeling process. You are going to find yourself with all new skin pretty soon, literally, literally. And you are going to see the difference show up in your lives.

So, find that child's play and find that free space because what else is a free energy space about than a space of freedom? If you can find that freedom, then maybe you will be able to prepare yourself for what is going to come next year. We have always said that this year was 'the year of finding your own cosmic sense of mastery and claiming your independence'. You have now found it.

But next year, 2008, is about implementing it, activating it, putting that to practice; making it a reality in your lives. First you had to find it within, and now you are going to have to practice it. Put it into reality without, outside of you. And that is going to create a fuzz believe me.

But nonetheless, I am asking you, and we will continue that question, not to stay quiet anymore, not to remain quiet and to walk outside, as though you would be a human because you are not. Not if the definition of 'human' is that which society is putting upon you. You are much more than that and you can achieve much more than that.

And now with all that being said, I will kindly retreat and make space for my good cosmic buddy to come in, Da Ojadasan'ka Adamus Valen San. I will see you all very soon, as this information will obviously continue, as we have just breached the surface now. I hope that in the next days, the next hours and the next seconds and in the next moments, you will take time to further integrate all of this and to find realistic ways, physical ways, of implementing these things in your life. And please, if you don't find the time for yourself to say to yourself that you are going to give yourself that gift of a month, then at least use that month to actually start breaking down your reality as you have known it up to this point.

It is not a claim we are making, but what I and Adamus, waiting here to come in now, is saying is very simple: You are going to see that there is going to be some of you that will have listened to all the information, that will have listened to it again and again and again and that will think that by some sort of magic, come end of December at twelve at midnight, they are going to be touched by something, and all of a sudden they are going to be wise and they are going to be grand and they are going to be Masters. No. Duh, indeed. It is a lot of work, and you need to break down that which you had built up first. Otherwise, you can't build your new world.

So, have a good breakdown and enjoy the breakdown. Enjoy all of those things that are at hand and know, please do know that you are never alone. Next time when we come back, we won't be just tackling the akeneic energy field; we will be talking about the fact why you are never alone. And that will be tomorrow probably. Why you are never alone and why is it so, why is this happening? Why can you find physical evidence of this right within your body, right within your DNA? So, next time, we will be talking about the illusion to beat all illusions, the one that you call 'separation.' That is going to be tomorrow. And as I will remind you, the illusion of separation is the one feeding the five others, keeping the five others alive.

So, the next two days are going to be about separation, and you will find out much more about that, and how it links to the illusion of form. That is going to be the second part of this 'Mastering the Grand Illusions' Series. And from that point, we will go deeper.

I bid you all a good night. Know that you are loved and know that we know each other. We know each other throughout time and space, and as I will retreat now to that space of no-space, I will be waiting for you there yet again to come through that door, as I will always wait for you.

And so, my beloved, I give the word to Da Ojadasan'ka Adamus Valen San.

Goodnight.
